PRODUCT GUIDE

Using this Product Guide

A continence assessment conducted by a continence advisor or urologist will help identify the most appropriate continence management plan for an individual. If it has been identified that the individual requires an indwelling catheter or uridome/sheath, a drainage bag will usually be required.

Drainage bags come in a variety of tube lengths, outlet taps and various capacities. To ensure the best fit, it is important to understand where the individual wishes to wear the leg bag and how they are going to empty it. Application requirements vary and BrightSky recommends that you refer to the manufacturer product information leaflet(s) prior to recommending a product.

More information on products listed in this Product Guide can be found on the BrightSky Australia website. All products can also be ordered through BrightSky Australia.

The products listed in this Guide are those that were available through BrightSky Australia at the time of printing and are subject to change. Not all categories from the Drainage Companion™ are currently populated with products. This Product Guide will be updated and new products added as they become available from product manufacturers.

The development of the BrightSky Drainage Companion™ Product Guide by Kylie Wicks MN (Research), BHIth, Dip App Sc (Nursing), CNC, is acknowledged.
